EasyDry Bin Drying System Price Update – May 9, 2019

Westeel's EasyDry Bin system was released in early 2019, and was met by very positive enthusiasm in the market. Through the process of working on the EasyDry system, there has been continuous improvements and refinement of our product offering. Westeel appreciates our customer's patience through this process, and also the feedback that has been provided which helps drive a lot of the change.

New to this release:

- AGI APEX Control System will replace the previous controls offered. These are manufactured and supported by AGI.
- NEW chart in price pages that identifies some limitations between a single duct system and double duct system depending on crop.
- Different method for kitting components of the system together for ease of ordering
 - Eg one plenum assembly kit for either single or double duct systems
- Optional upgrade components added to price pages
- NEW EasyDry Quote Tool to assist you with pricing packages to your customers

As a result of the changes, there is also some change to our list pricing. Please review any current quotes that you have actively open and adjust as needed. Westeel will honor the lowest price between the price list showing an effective date of January 21, 2019 and this current version until May 20, 2019.

If you have any questions please contact Jose Suazo, Product Specialist at (204) 235-9421 or your local AGI Sales Representative.
